

Associate Professorships (Non-Tutorial) in association with a college for a specific specialism

This joint appointment is associated with a non-tutorial fellowship at a college. The University uses the grade of Associate Professor for most of its senior academic appointments (roughly equivalent to Associate Professor in the USA).

You will have an exceptional track record in scholarship, research, teaching, management and administration and will enjoy participating fully in the interdisciplinary college community and life of the Department. In return you can expect a challenging and rewarding role and a generous package of benefits and support.

Role Specifications

- Each year varies, however around 2-5 posts a year can become available
- Positions will be advertised for a specific specialism
- Typically advertised during Michaelmas term (from October) and usually recruited during Hilary term (January onwards)
- Five year appointment before eligibility for reappointment until retirement
- Salary from £45,562 p.a.
- Additional allowances, including for housing, research and computing
- College and departmental offices
- Administrative support

Key Responsibilities

- Independent research and securing of research funding
- Teaching, supervision, assessment and examination for the Department
- Administration and committee support duties

The Opportunity

- Eligible for consideration for award of the title of full professor, at an enhanced salary
- Eligible for sabbatical leave
- Membership of Congregation (the sovereign legislative body within the University) and the right to vote
- Contracted to the University with access to an attractive benefits package
<https://www.ox.ac.uk/about/jobs/benefits/#d.en.37670>

About You

- You will have a completed doctorate in a relevant field of economics
- Postdoctoral experience in an academic position from any specialisation
- Proven high standard of research and the ability to publish in top-rated international journals
- Ability to provide graduate supervision
- Strong communication, interpersonal, time management and organisational skills
- Strong and innovative team worker with a willingness to participate in college life and government