

Marianne Caro Bruins

CV current version

Web page

marianne.bruins@economics.ox.ac.uk

Employment history

Since 2014: Postdoctoral fellow at Nuffield College and the Economics Department, University of Oxford (until 2018)

Since 2016: IFS Research Associate

Education

2009–14: PhD in Economics, Yale University

Dissertation title: The Effect of the Economic and Policy Environment on the Resources Parents Allocate their Children

Advisors: Joseph Altonji and Costas Meghir

2008–09: M.S., Economics, University of Wisconsin-Madison

2000–05: BSc (Adv. Maths) / BCom (Hons.) University of Sydney

Majors: Applied Mathematics, Economics and Econometrics

Awarded with Honours Class I

Fellowships and awards

Garland Fellowship (2013-14)

Hoffman Fellowship (2011-12)

Distinction, oral examination in Labor Economics (2011)

Yale University Graduate Fellowship (2009–14)

Grants

British Academy Small Grant (£9608, April 2016- April 2017): TANF and Local Marriage Market Equilibrium

John Fell Grant (£7465, Jan – Aug 2017): Optimal Tax and Welfare Policy for Targeting Household Resources to Children

Oxford Economic Papers (OEP) Research Fund (£2500, July – Dec 2015): Variation in County Level Trends in Intergenerational Mobility, Divergence or Convergence?

Russell Sage Foundation ($7500, US, May – Dec 2014): The Intra-household Determinants of Geographical Variation in Inter-generational Mobility

Papers

Publications

“Women’s Economic Opportunities and the Intra-household Production of Child Human Capital” Labour Economics (2017)

“Generalized Indirect Inference in Discrete Choice Models” with James Duffy, Mike Keane, and Tony Smith, Journal of Econometrics (forthcoming)

Working papers

“The Intra-household Determinants of Geographical Variation in Inter-generational Mobility” r&r Journal of Human Capital

“TANF, Childcare and Child Welfare in Sole Parent Families” submitted
“Taxes and Welfare, and the Resources Parents Allocate their Children” submitted
“Increasing Inequality in the Resources Parents Allocate their Children: 1975–2005”
“The Econometrics of Time-use Data” with James Duffy
“The Effect of TANF on Long-run Outcomes for Children” with Rita Ginja
Works in Progress
“Optimal Tax and Welfare Policy for Targeting Household Resources to Children”

Teaching experience

Oxford University, Lectures

Introduction to Stata, Michaelmas 2014/2015/2016

Microeconometrics (panel data), Trinity 2015

The Econometrics of Simulation Estimation, Michaelmas 2015/2016

Yale University, Teaching Assistant

Graduate Microeconomics (instructor: K. Rozen), Fall 2011

Graduate Econometrics II (instructor: X. Chen), Spring 2012

Graduate Econometrics I (instructor: D. Andrews), Fall 2012

Seminar and Conference Presentations

2016-17: University of Rochester; University of Bristol; University of Toronto; Oxford University (x2); University of Essex (ISER); Royal Economic Society – Surrey; Workshop on Child Poverty (University of Essex); European Economic Association meeting (Geneva); European Econometric Society meeting (Summer – Geneva); Workshop on Human Capital Formation and Family Economics, Chicago University; University of Chicago (HECO); IFS/UCL; University of Gothenburg; Society of Labor Economists (Raleigh); North American Econometric Society meetings (Summer – St. Louis); European Econometric Society meeting (Summer – Lisbon); Barcelona Summer Forum, Structural Microeconomics Workshop; Yale University.

2014-15: University of Leuven; Barcelona Summer Forum, Family Economics Workshop; Russell Sage Conference on Inter-generational Mobility; IFS/UCL; Family Economics Conference, University of Copenhagen; ISER Family Economics Workshop, University of Essex; Oxford University; Yale University

2012--13: Macquarie University; Yale University; Melbourne Institute, Labour Econometrics Workshop

Referee Service

Journal of Political Economy, Economic Letters

Professional Service

Thesis supervision: Aarne Rissanen (MPhil Oxford, 2015/16); Shusaku Nishiguchi (MPhil Oxford, 2015/16); Christina Palmou (MPhil Oxford, 2015/16); David Dieter (MPhil Oxford, 2016/17); Marta Golin (MPhil Oxford, 2017/18)

MPhil Thesis Examination (Oxford, 2015)

Organiser: Applied Micro Lunch (Oxford, 2015-16)